JULY 2019 VOLUME 1

The Rochester Junior Monarchs will be hosting their biggest event of the year, NCDC Main Camp.

Each year the final roster for the NCDC and Premier teams are selected at the conclusion of Main Camp and brought into training camp to start the season. This year's class of invites includes returning NCDC player Shea Courtmanche (Dartmouth Commit), Parker Bolda (Honeybaked 16U), Fletcher Bolda (Canton Commit), and many other very talented players.

Rochester area players are well represented with stand out players Hunter McDonald (Fairport, RPI Commit), Chad Williams (Hilton), Jared Smith (Hilton), Dylan Wiemer (Greece), & Carter McWilliams (Canandaigua) who will all be in attendance.

Multiple NCAA coaches will be in attendance at Main Camp getting an early start to recruiting. This is an exciting time to be a Junior Monarch!

FUN FACTS

The original Rochester Monarchs were brought together by a number of avid hockey enthusiasts in 1973. This high caliber of hockey was predominant throughout the 70's. The Junior Monarchs returned in the late 80s early 90s and immediately became a junior power house. These teams competed annually for a National Championship. Players from these teams went on to play NHL, Major Junior, and College Hockey.
